

Pertinent Paragraphs

"The Best Climate on Earth" is just another name for Lemon Grove. We know this, but when we get more rain than any other district in Southern California, that may be news.

We heard people worry about conservation of water, about loss through run-off. Then we get a soaking rain and there is not enough run-off to fill the reservoirs.

We are beginning to feel that we have the best water supply as well as the best climate. Run-off supply or run-off loss, whichever it is, can both be used if the necessity arises. Storage for Colorado River water is the first supplement to our "Best Climate on Earth," and that we have.

Natural gas, now being supplemented by Texas natural gas, to provide for all emergencies, may seem, to Easterners, of little importance in this "Best Climate on Earth." Our warm "Sunny Days" are best for outdoor living, but our cool nights are best for sleeping with open windows combined with proper ventilation through natural gas heating.

When these basic conditions (soil, climate, water, fuel) are present, we have only scratched the surface. Add the necessary power supply, also available, and we will more than scratch the surface.

Confidence in the future is necessary for development of a community. Our ability to look after our own interests enables us to look after the welfare of others. Their welfare in return is the greatest asset we may possess. This is the basis of the "Trade in Lemon Grove" campaign.

Our subscription campaign at the present time is geared to "Our Residential Directory" effort and we want this directory effort to remain a purely Lemon Grove policy.

We are not objecting to competition "all things equal." We ceased publishing newspapers for neighboring communities and we invited publishers in neighboring communities to move their printing plants to Lemon Grove and do as we do, print newspapers "In Lemon Grove and for Lemon Grove" only.

We simply want to make our position clear. There is now only one Lemon Grove Newspaper printed "In and for Lemon Grove" and this paper is The Lemon Grove Review.

We do not consider representatives of newspapers printed outside of Lemon Grove, as representing Lemon Grove interests.

LET'S DISCUSS IT

by Mrs. Agnes Whitlock

The subject of today's column is Bath, Maine, the former home town of Mr. and Mrs. John Kish. They and their daughter Katherine, 12, have made their home at 7259 San Miguel Avenue. Mr. Kish is a retired Navy man, now a Civil Service worker at the Naval Repair Base. Mrs. Kish (Mildred) is a clubwoman and a Girl Scout Leader. Having been a Navy wife for a good many years, she has lived in many places, but she still likes to talk about her home town of Bath, Maine.

Bath, or as so many people say, Bawth, is about 12 miles from the ocean and on the Kennebec River. It is a ship-building city and a summer resort, named after the ancient city of Bath, England.

"Many of the ships in the San Diego Harbor were built at the Bath Iron Works. A good many government vessels are built there, as well as some very fine yachts. Other world known products from Bath are the Propellers, shafts and windlasses from the Hyden Winlass Company. This plant has never closed down, not even during the 'Depression Years.'"

Incidentally, the first steel sailing ship, a four-master, was built in Bath.

"The Kennebec River is a mile wide and over, in places. There is good fishing, boating, and swimming on it. The Merry Meeting Bay is above Bath. It is a very impressive scene, as the Penobscot, Androscoggin and the Kennebec Rivers all dump into it.

"With all of the good hunting and fishing practically in their own back yards, it is surprising how few people go in for this type of outdoor recreation.

"One of the most exciting events of the year, is the Firemen's Muster. Firemen and their trucks gather from all over the State and hold contests. One is a water throwing feat. Another thing that I missed when we first came out here, was the Fire Alarms. They rang all over town. It was also used to let us know there wouldn't be any school, in bad weather.

"There are a lot of grammar schools in Bath, but only one High School. The high school covers about two square blocks.

"Basketball was a favorite indoor sport in winter. Church basketball teams held large competitive matches. They played for a cup, but a team had to win three years in a row to be able to keep the cup.

"There is a park in the middle of town. It has the bandstand, Library and fish pond in it. The streets are lined with Elm trees and in summer, they hang over like arches. The only place that we have seen that reminded us of it is Sacramento, California, and there they have Maples and Elms."

"Of historic importance, is the bell tower of the Davenport Memorial Building. This bell was cast in 1805 in the Paul Revere Foundry. The Davenport Memorial Museum houses some very interesting nautical collections.

"Among the famous people from Maine, is Senator Sumner Sewall. Senator Sewall is from an old Bath family. The old Sewall place, called the Stone House Farm, is just a short dis-"Miss Cookie of 1949" is Sandra Knight, Intermediate Ramona Girl Scout, who has been chosen to represent the San Diego County Girl Scouts in their current cookie sale, February 11 through February 26.

Intermediates and Senior Scouts are working together in an effort to augment Community Chest altance from town. It is made of huge blocks of stone and resembles an old medieval castle.

"Of course everyone thinks of Maine as being awfully cold, and it is, very often. The farmers always hope for an early spring, so the crops will get ripe before the frosts come in the fall.

"I can remember walking in snow up to my hips, not for fun either. One year it was like that with a two inch crust all over everything and a sleet storm thrown in for good measure. The light power was off, transportation was at a standstill. It was the worst winter I can remember.

"We like to go back for a summer vacation, but never to stay.

"We have been trying to get the rest of the family to come to California, but they are determined there is no place like Maine. Give us Lemon Grove, California!

"We have lived in a lot of places in the last 13 years, but Lemon Grove is the best place on earth to us."

FLAVORFUL FISH

Many of you will be looking for new and different ways to serve fish during Lent. A flavorful sauce adds zest and variety to any fish, advises Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Delphine D. Wilson of the University of California Agricultural Extension service. Some sauces can be cooked with the fish, while others are heated and poured over the fish before serving, or are served separately at the table.

Mrs. Wilson recommends a sour sauce, such as the following, which can be served with simmered and steamed fish:

1/2 teaspoon mustard (may omit)
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
few grains paprika
1 egg or 2 yolks
1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup cream
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar (more if needed)

1. Cook the seasonings, cream, eggs and butter in a double boiler, being careful not to curdle.
2. Cool partly, and add vinegar.

Three tablespoons butter combined with three tablespoons flour may be used with one cup milk and one-half cup cream in place of the proportions of butter and cream given above.

Other ways of preparing and serving fish may be found in a circular entitled "What about Fish?" prepared by Hilda Faust lotments so that scouting operations throughout the county may continue.

Miss Cookie has been chosen as the typical Girl Scout to represent the girls in this sale when they hope to deliver 75,000 boxes of cookies. The cookies, shaped as the Girl Scout trefoil, will be sold in neighborhoods, in booths and at club meetings.

According to Mrs. Gene P. Mc Fall, executive director of San Diego County Girl Scouts, the sale offers the Scouts opportunity to work both for their organization and for themselves as individuals since girls who sell 120 boxes or more will earn credit toward their summer camp fees.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

PLANT ROSES NOW

Now is a good time to plant rose bushes, advises Assistant Farm Advisor Bernarr J. Hall of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service. And the best bush to plant is one with the roots dormant and the tissues plump. If the bush has bare roots it must be set out in advance of the appearance of new growth.

Roses should be planted in full sun, or where there is a good amount of sun during the day

Planting them in the shade will make them more susceptible to mildew. Any well-drained, fertile, loam soil is suitable, but roses won't do well in soils which contain too much alkali or other harmful chemicals. If the soil is too heavy and the drainage is poor, put a layer of gravel or peat moss in the bottom of the hole.

The hole in which the bush is to be planted should be somewhat larger than the root system. The best soil should be piled at the side to fill in around the roots later. The roots should be spread out in normal position, with the moist soil sifted in around them. Finally, the soil should be firmed

Frank Loveday Succeeds Al. Huebsch as Owner Grove Quality Cleaners

Another Lemon Grove business has changed hands this week. Mr. Frank Loveday has purchased the Grove Quality Cleaners business, organized last June by Mr. Al Huebsch.

Mr. Huebsch has no definite plans as yet, but hopes to stay on in Lemon Grove.

Mr. Loveday is no stranger in the community, as his wife has had "Jo's Dress Shop" next door for over a year, and he often assisted her.

Welcoming the new owner, we also hope Mr. and Mrs. Huebsch will continue to take part in the life of our thriving community.

snugly with the foot so that the bush stands at about the same depth as it did in the nursery. Allow for some settling after planting and for the addition of mulch.

Most rose growers prefer to plant several bushes together in pleasing groups rather than alone. All standard or tree roses should be staked carefully and tied so that the canes won't break in a strong wind. Climbing roses will need support, such as a wall or fence.

The University of California Agricultural Extension Service has published a bulletin entitled "Rose Culture in California," by H. M. Butterfield. It covers thoroughly the planting and care of roses in all parts of California. Free copies are available upon request at the local Agricultural Extension Service office, Room 404, U. S. Customs Building, San Diego 1.

HOME SEWING GAINS IN POPULARITY

Home sewing is on the increase says Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Miss Alma Carlson. If you sew, and chances are that you do, you are only one of nearly thirty-four and a half million women of the United States who do home sewing — that's 95 per cent of all housewives.

Fifty-two and a half per cent of these women are creative sewers — they make clothing or household items. About 43 per cent do just mending and darning.

With the number of home sewers growing by leaps and bounds every year, Miss Carlson believes there'll be many of you who'll be interested in a few little short cuts — what she calls factory methods of sewing.

In factories, the workers turn out well-made garments in a very short space of time. You can use some of their short cuts at home. For instance, you can make several garments at one time. If two members of your family sew together, or two neighbors, perhaps you can arrange to use two sewing machines — you'll go faster than if each of you work alone.

Learn to use your hands to guide the material into the sewing machine, instead of pulling it through. Try stitching several seams, one after the other, without breaking the thread. It will save you motions, and you can clip the threads when you are through. Pins are seldom used in factory sewing because of the danger involved, but in your home sewing, a pin at the beginning, and ending of a seam is usually enough. Very little basting

Family Reunion Held at Daniel I. Rees Home

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel I. Rees of Massachusetts Avenue entertained members of Mrs. Rees' family last Tuesday in a family reunion. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Merriman of Chula Vista were guests; also Mrs. Mildred Pruitt a sister, of Chula Vista; a brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merriman and daughter Judy of Moses Lake, Washington; a sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fancher and daughter Kay of Valley, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Gregory of Chula Vista, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Ross and family of La Mesa, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Rees of La Mesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Brahs of Lemon Grove. These were members of the immediate family, and there were many cousins and other more distant relatives present.

The celebration took the form of a buffet supper followed by an old-fashioned dance, with music furnished by the Wilson family orchestra.

The Fancher family of Valley, Washington, have enjoyed an extended trip this winter, visiting in New Orleans, and spending some time in Mexico City.

Many excursions and trips have been planned in the guests' honor, and the past two weeks have been very busy and happy for all the family.

needs to be done. Machine basting can be substituted for hand basting. For machine basting lengthen the stitch to six or eight to the inch.

Another short cut is to buy a simple pattern and cut several dresses from it at one time. You can vary the style of these dresses by using different materials and trimmings.

SCHOOL NEWS

On February 25, at 1:00 o'clock the eighth grade students of Room 24, Mrs. Darrach's room, presented a musical assembly program to the seventh and eighth grade students. The cafeteria was the scene of the group and individual singing. Gunnard Ostberg was in charge of the program and announced all the musical numbers. Richard Pritchett led the entire assembly in singing several songs which included "O Susanna," "Yankee Doodle," and "School Days."

Shirley Taylor and Patricia Mouillesseaux sang "Galway Bay." Marion Farrow entertained with the popular "Powder Your Face With Sunshine." Mary Alice Cheney and Carol Beighle played a violin duet, "Swing Waltz," and eight girls, Lulalea Hutchings, Sandra Moore, Carol Beighle, Betty Stallings, Flossine Hemmer, Alice Cooter, Carol Eber and Janice Tuttle, sang "Love Somebody."

Mrs. Lauritzen's third graders found high adventure Monday, February 28, down at the foot of Crosby Street at the San Diego Bay, when Van Camp's Sea Food Company played host to the youngsters and helped point out to them ways in which boats and the harbor serve the community. The trip was made in connection with the group's present social studies unit on boats.

Accompanying the class in the role of group-mothers, were Mrs. Donovan Ellis, Mrs. E. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. A. W. Westphal and Mrs. Guy Winton, all of whom had sons or daughters in the class. The group-mothers, as well as the bus driver, Mrs. Schmidt, agreed that the trip was equally as much fun (and as educational) for them as it was for the youngsters.

Mr. Olson, personnel manager for Van Camp's, conducted the tour of the docks and the packing plants himself, explaining the processes involved and pointing out many details which might have been overlooked.

The trip was arranged so that the children would not only see the packing process, but would also be able to witness the unloading of a large catch of tuna from a boat that came in Saturday. Much excitement was expressed when the huge buckets of fish were dumped into the shiny troughs to float down to the packing plant, and later the moving belts and the capping machines were so fascinating that the lines moved too slowly for even the patient Mr. Olson.

Wednesday, February 23, Mrs. Nelson's sixth grade held a track meet. Below are listed the names of those who came in first, second and third:

Fifty yard dash, Jerry Johnson, Jim Hurst and Kip Herrera. One hundred yard dash, Jerry Johnson, Jim Hurst and Jim Cruz.

High jump, Kip Herrera, Lee Never and William Blair.

Business Men Plan Residential Survey and Poll

Another well attended breakfast meeting of the Business Men's Association was held Tuesday morning in the basement of the Community Congregational Church.

After partaking of an excellent breakfast the meeting was called to order by the president, John Hill.

The secretary, Mr. Paul Duley, read the minutes of the Directors Meeting called by the Co-ordinating Council, and their action in welcoming new business people to Lemon Grove was approved by the membership.

The new by-laws were read and approved and new members welcomed to the club.

Mr. A. E. Donnelly, chairman of the Retail Sales Committee brought up the question of a business and a residential directory.

After prolonged discussion of the "Trade in Lemon Grove" issue, a resolution was passed in favor of a residential survey and poll in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Baxter, Sonka, Baecht, Barnes and Pletschet was appointed to prepare a business directory for Lemon Grove.

ervision of their teacher, Mrs. Stevens, and three room mothers, Mrs. Mulder, Mrs. Bottini and Mrs. Turner. The group made the trip in a bus driven by Mrs. Schmidt.

Mrs. Shields acted as guide and told many interesting things about the Mission history. Some of the children rang the bells which the Mission Fathers rang to call the Indians to church in the early days. Camp Fire Girls Hold Father and Daughter Banquet

One of the outstanding events in the Camp Fire calendar was the Father and Daughter banquet last Friday night at the V. F. W. Hall. The dinner was prepared entirely by the girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Porter.

After the singing of the blessing by the Camp Fire Girls, Rev. Dan Apra gave an invocation. Then came the supper. Judy Payne was toast mistress and introduced Dona Shaffer who gave the greeting to the Dads.

Mrs. Naomi Faucher and Patricia Lee, former Camp Fire Torch Bearers, told of some interesting experiences of their Camp Fire days. Beverly Henderson sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Close. Flossine Hemmer gave a toast to the Dads and called upon Dr. Herbert to give one to the daughters.

Mr. Ernest Veau, brother-in-law of Mrs. Porter and probation officer of Fresno, gave a nice talk on the importance of Camp Fire in a girls life and of the assistance the Dads can be to the organization. The girls sang a good night song to close the program.

'49'er Daze' A Big Success For Vista La Mesa

The Vista La Mesa Civic League had a very enjoyable evening Saturday in the Forward Club House, beginning at 6:30 with a "Chuck Wagon" serving barbecued sandwiches, coffee, and cake, in charge of Mrs. Ashton Barnum.

Musical numbers began at 7:00 p.m. with accordion duets by Norman Moon and Barbara Tuttle. The Alex Barron family presented western music with their quartet. Dee Kendall presented some unusually fine piano selections. Miss Carol Aldstadt and Miss Francine Kendrick played marimba numbers. Art Chapelle rendered accordion solos. Hal Lennox as a tap dancer and Joanie Dereieux as a roller skating acrobat, were well received.

The big event of the evening was the giving away of a lot in Vista La Mesa, and the lucky recipient was Mr. Harry Gold- barg of 4051 King Street in Vista La Mesa.

A Quiz Show wound up the evening's entertainment, conducted by Andrew Capp. Many prizes were awarded, contributed by the theatres and merchants in the vicinity.

The affair was given as a benefit for a playground for the children of Vista La Mesa.

Mr. Harry Goldbarg who was awarded the lot at the Vista La Mesa affair at the Forward Club house Saturday evening, was an original owner of the tract from which it was taken.

Sunday he turned it back to the Civic League to resell, to make more money for the playground. This gesture on his part will probably boost the fund about $1,000, and the League was very appreciative of his generous act.

all else. A safe procedure for the average person is as follows:

Choose the hours from 9:00 to 11:00 in the morning and after 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Lie on the back with covering on the head. Uncover the feet and legs to the knees, expose for three minutes, then turn over and expose the back of the legs for another three minutes. Next day uncover to the hips and follow the same procedure as the day before. On the third day you may uncover to the lower portion of the breastbone, and on the fourth day you are ready to expose the whole body.

Keep correct time with your watch and have your head covered all the time. The following week you can extend the time to five minutes, keeping up the same routine as in the first week.
Do this again in the third week with exposures lasting ten minutes for each section of the body.
In the fifth week a protecting pigment (tan) should be deposited enabling you to stand one half hour of complete front and back exposure.

Some persons feel exhausted with shorter periods and some endure an hour or more without appreciable lowering of vitality.
Some individuals, especially fairhaired, delicate looking persons with tender skins, are very sensitive to ultra-violet rays while people having dark complexions tolerate them much better. Beware of sunstroke and catching cold.

Since life depends on food and proper nutrition it is quite conceivable that we are influenced in many ways by the kind of food we select and amount that we eat. There is a limit to the amount of food that we need and a limit to the amount we can digest and assimilate. We can eat too little or too much. Of the two evils overindulgence is undoubtedly the more common and the more grave in its general consequences.

There never was a disease in which nutrition was in nowise involved. There never was a state of health in which the factor of nutrition was absent.

There is no phase of human activity, thought, or behavior that is not influenced, directly or indirectly, by physical condition.
Every individual is a part of the composite picture of human form, stature, expression, character, mentality and progress.
Food influences every characteristic of man and of the animal.

No one will likely dispute the statement that most people are unwell, and that their failures, indiscretions, fits of temper, tendency to complain, their lack of enthusiasm and other qualities which contribute to making them unhappy and inefficient creatures, are in great measure the result of ill health.

To attain and maintain health and all its blessings, one must cultivate habits of moderation in all things. In this age of speed in which people are given very little time to plan, think, or look before they leap, man has apparently made progress in every line of endeavor except his endeavor to lengthen his years and make them more comfortable while he is living them.

One of those fast living people was August Heim, 55 years of age and the proprietor of a bar room. His weight was about 192 pounds, of which at least 40 pounds were too many. He was a workhorse during twelve to fourteen hours each day except on Sunday when he put in eight hours.

His appetite was ravenous and the quantities of food he managed to store away in his stomach were enormous. He was a chain cigar smoker and his glass of beer was never empty except for a minute when he took a 'shot' of whisky. He had a terrible habit of eating his food too hot and too fast and drinking his beer too cold.

It was no great surprise that he always complained of stomach trouble for which he had consulted several doctors. Though every one of them had made a different diagnosis, they all agreed on one point: less food; less drink, and less smokes. August had paid a neat little sum for the different diets the doctors had prescribed for him but he never found enough initiative to restrict himself.

"They are all crazy" he would say, "asking me to eat baby food." But his condition got gradually worse and the time came when August had to quit work and sell his business. In his disbelief in doctors he had formed another habit by trying to cure himself.

He had to stop his heavy eating and drinking as it caused him too much pain, but he kept on smoking his cigars. He indulged in drinking herbal teas of all descriptions, which possibly years ago, would have eliminated his condition.

His sickness was too far advanced for palliative measures and finally August was taken to the hospital. The examination gave a clear history of pyloric ulcer of at least ten years standing.

Under strict management all evidence of discomfort disappeared in eight to nine weeks and August stayed well for about a year. It was then found that the stomach did not empty and that only a trifling amount of liquid food could seep into the intestines. Slow starvation was inevitable unless surgery could be successfully employed.

With great reluctance the patient submitted to an operation which resulted fatally within a week, due to extreme impoverishment and the constitutional effects of arteriosclerosis.

In days gone by, men led more or less simple lives, and their food, as far as variety and choice of selection are concerned, was also comparatively simple. Man's ingenuity has kept pace with his intellectual advancement and cultural progress, and our dietary is now as comprehensive as our appetites are discriminating.
We have today a much wider choice as to variety and preparation, and our eating habits have become as complex and varied as have our other habits. We have learned to cater to appetite rather than to hunger.
